

Introduction

This website privacy policy describes how GreenMantra[®] Technologies, Ltd. protects and makes use of the information provided by visitors when accessing this website. If you are asked to provide information when using our website, that information will only be used in the manner described below.

This policy will be updated on occasion. The latest version is published on this page and was updated on February 15, 2018. If you have any questions about this policy, please email info@greenmantra.com or write to GreenMantra Technologies, Ltd., attn: Marketing, 81 Elgin St., Brantford, ON N3S 5A1.

We collect information from visitors to our website to enable certain functions on our website and to present timely, relevant information. We may collect the following information:

- Website usage data
- Demographic information, such as postal code, preferences and interests
- Name, company, job title and contact information (including email address), via the contact form voluntarily submitted
- Other information relevant to business inquiries

How we use data

Collecting website data helps us understand what visitors are looking for from the company, enabling us to deliver an improved customer experience. Specifically, we may use data to:

- Improve the information about our products, our markets and applications and our company
Contact visitors in response to a specific inquiry
- Develop improvements to the website

Cookies and how we use them

A cookie is a small segment of code placed on a browsing device. It enables our website to identify a device, as a visitor views different pages.

Cookies allow websites to store visitor preferences to present content, options or functions that are specific to the visitor. They allow us to see how many visitors access our website and what pages they tend to visit.

We may use cookies to:

- Analyze web traffic using an analytics program. Aggregated usage data helps us improve the website structure, design, content and functions.
- Store information about visitor preferences.
- Recognize when visitors return to our website. We may show returning visitors relevant content or provide functionality that they had previously accessed.

Cookies do not provide us with access to an individual's device or any information about users, other than that which visitors choose to share with us.

Visitors can use their browser's cookie settings to determine how our website uses cookies. If a visitor does not want our website to store cookies on their device, they may set their web browser to refuse cookies. However, please note that doing this may affect how our website functions. Some pages and services may become unavailable. Unless a visitor has changed their browser to refuse cookies, our website will issue cookies when visited.

Protecting Your Information When a visitor provides contact information on our website, they agree that we can use that information for marketing purposes. To change opt-in status, send an email to info@greenmantra.com.

We will never lease, distribute or sell personal information to third parties. Any personal information we hold is stored and processed under our data protection policy and in accordance with the Canada's Anti-Spam Law. (CASL)
